Catherine Thorp-Cramb Prize in Doctors’ Mental Health

(This prize was established in 2017 in memory of Dr Catherine Thorp-Cramb, a graduate of The University of Queensland. The prize was funded by gifts from family, friends and colleagues of Catherine, and is intended to increase community awareness in the area of doctors’ mental health.)

(a) Recommending authority

Medical Dean, Faculty of Medicine on advice from a head of the academic discipline of psychiatry or his or her nominee

(b) Eligibility

3rd or 4th year students who are enrolled in the MD

(c) Basis for award

Best submitted essay on the topic of Doctors’ Mental Health

(d) Nature of prize

$1000

(e) Other provisions

The prize may not be shared