Who are Cambridge Australia Scholarships?

Since the 1980s, we have supported around 1000 Australian graduate students to study at the University of Cambridge.

Cambridge Australia Scholarships, formerly known as the Cambridge Australia Trust, provides scholarships for outstanding Australian graduates to undertake Masters and PhD studies at the University of Cambridge, England.

In collaboration with The Cambridge Commonwealth, European and International Trust, Cambridge Australia Scholarships awards up to ten PhD scholarships and a number of Masters degree half-scholarships each year. We are funded entirely by private philanthropy. Scholars past and present form part of an international network that encompasses all countries supported by the Cambridge Commonwealth, European and International Trust.
Queensland Australia Scholarship (Masters)

What does it cover?
The Cambridge Australia Queensland Scholarship has been established through the generosity of Justice Anthe Philippides.

This generous scholarship includes University tuition fees and Maintenance (living allowance) for a single student valued at approximately £40,000.

When to apply
The LLM application deadline is Tuesday 3 December 2020 at 12 noon (midday) UK time.

How to apply
To be considered for a Cambridge Australia Scholarship (PhD or Masters), you must first apply for entry to the University of Cambridge.

All applications for both a place and a scholarship must be made through the Graduate Admissions Office at the University of Cambridge https://www.graduate.study.cam.ac.uk/

Eligibility
To be eligible candidates must:
• Be born in, resident in or from a University in Queensland.
• If you are born in Queensland but are not a resident, nor studied at a University in Queensland you will need to bring your QLD place of birth to CAS’ attention as the University of Cambridge does not collect this information.
• There is a preference for candidates who have selected Gonville & Caius College.
• Consideration will be given to candidates personal circumstances, where some kind of disadvantage (past or present) exists.

LLM at Cambridge University – Applications close 3 December 2020

The Law Faculty at Cambridge offers a world-renowned, internationally respected LLM (Master of Law) programme.

The one year taught course offers highly qualified and intellectually outstanding students the opportunity of pursuing their legal studies at an advanced level in a challenging - but supportive - environment.

The LLM course, with its rich historical traditions, attracts students of the highest calibre, from both common law and civil law jurisdictions. It is intended for those wishing to pursue further legal studies after completing their first degree in law.
