

The Donald Tugby Postgraduate Archaeological Research Prize

(Established in 2010 and maintained by the income of an endowment gift of $23,000 from Dr Donald Tugby, who taught anthropology at The University of Queensland from 1958 to 1986. Dr Tugby introduced statistics to archaeology and initiated extensive archaeological fieldwork on North Stradbroke Island. The prize is to encourage and reward research excellence in archaeology by facilitating postgraduate student participation in the global archaeological research community.)

- (a) Recommending authority
Head, School of Social Science, on advice from the staff teaching in the field of archaeology.
- (b) Eligibility
Students who are enrolled in a Higher Degree by Research in the field of archaeology and have not previously been awarded the prize.
- (c) Basis for award
Best application based on the following criteria, in ranked order of importance:
(i) peer-reviewed publication(s) (in press or published), with an emphasis on highly ranked journal articles;
(ii) successful competitive grant applications;
(iii) conference participation, with preference for conferences of international standing;
(iv) previous prizes awarded;
(v) proposed use of the funds to support one or more of the activities outlined in rule (d)(i).
- (d) Nature of prize
(i) at least $1,000 to be used to support –
(a) travel;
(b) publication; and/or
(c) fieldwork costs related to postgraduate research activities; and
(ii) a School of Social Science certificate.